Administration

HORTLY after the opening of the college in September, announcement was made of the appointment of Rev. Joseph M. Walsh, S. J., to the presidency of the institution. This appointment marks the first time in the history of Spring Hill that a native of Mobile has been assigned to that office. During the ninety-five years that the college has stood on the Hill no Mobilian has had the honor of presiding over its destinies as president.

Father Walsh was born in Mobile, November 13, 1884. In the year 1898 he entered the preparatory department of Spring Hill College. He remained at Spring Hill until he graduated from the College with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1903. On January 20, 1904, a few months after his graduation, Father Walsh entered the Society of Jesus at St. Stanislaus Novitiate and Normal College, Macon, Ga. From St. Stanislaus Father Walsh went to Woodstock College, Woodstock, Md., where he followed a three-year course in philosophy and the sciences. In 1910 he returned to the South to begin his life work as an educator. He remained at Spring Hill from 1910 to 1915 as professor of English and the classics, and for several years faculty director of the Springhillian. In 1915 he began a four-year course in theology at the Collegio Maxima, Sarria, Barcelona, Spain. At the end of the third year of this course he was ordained to the priesthood. In 1919 Father Walsh returned to the United States and to Spring Hill, this time as secretary. From 1920 to 1922 he went to Poughkeepsie, New York, where he made one year of advance study in ascetical theology at St. Andrew-on-the-Hudson.

In 1923-24, Father Walsh was professor of Philosophy at Loyola University, New Orleans. Returning once more to Spring Hill in September, 1924, he took up the office of dean, which office he held until his appointment as president. Thus Father Walsh is a real Springhillian in every sense of the word, having been student, alumnus, professor, dean, and now president of the institution.

Father Walsh is a man eminently fitted both by natural endowment and training, for the high post which he is now called upon to fill. He is looked upon as an authority in educational matters, and has taken a special course in Education in Columbia University. There are few men who know Spring Hill as well as Father Walsh, there are none more interested in Spring Hill and its future than Father Walsh is. He believes that a greater Spring Hill means a greater Mobile, and that in serving this venerable college, the oldest institution of higher education in Alabama, he is serving, in a very real way, his own native city and state. The Spring Hill faculty, too, feels that the honor of being chosen to the presidency is merited by Father Walsh, and that under him the college is sure to make great progress. The success of the drive during the past year has proved this beyond a doubt.

Any attempt to alliterate reasons why the students love and admire their president would be futile, owing to their vast number. It suffices, however, to say, that he possesses a rare charm of personality coupled with a great heart full of understanding and sympathy. To our able leader, to the man behind the scenes, do we owe the success of the banner year of 1925-26.

History

The College Faculty

The officers and teachers in the College are for the most part members of the Jesuit order, an organization which from its origin has devoted itself to the education of youth. It conducts high schools, colleges and universities throughout the United States, and has more than twenty-five thousand students in its various institutions.

The principles of education which have made the Jesuits successful in education work throughout the world, and which are followed at Spring Hill as in every Jesuit institution, are set forth in the Ratio Studiorum, a body of rules and suggestions outlined by the most prominent Jesuit educators in 1599, revised in 1832, and attended up to the present day with unflinching results.

Truly psychological in its methods, and based upon the very nature of man's mental process, it secures on the one hand that stability so essential to educational thoroughness, while on the other, it is elastic, and makes liberal allowance for the widely varying circumstances of time and place. While retaining, as far as possible, all that is unquestionably valuable in the older learning, it adopts and incorporates the best results of modern progress. It is a noteworthy fact, however, that many of the recently devised methods of teaching, such as the Natural, and Inductive and similar methods, are admittedly in reality mere revivals of devices recommended long ago in the Ratio Studiorum.

As understood by the Jesuits, education in its complete sense, is the full and harmonious development of all those faculties that are distinctive of man. It is more than mere instruction or the communication of knowledge. The acquirement of knowledge, though it necessarily pertains to any recognized system of education, is only a secondary result of education itself. Learning is an instrument of education which has for its end culture, and mental and moral development.

The College Faculty

Consonant with this view of the purpose of education, it is clear that only such means be chosen both in kind and amount, as will effectively further the purpose of education itself. A student cannot be forced, within the short period of his school course and with his immature faculties, to study a multiplicity of the languages and sciences into which the vast world of knowledge has been scientifically divided. It is evident, therefore, that the purpose of the mental training given is not proximately to fit the student for some special employment or profession, but to give him such a general, vigorous and rounded development as will enable him to cope successfully even with the unforeseen emergencies of life. While affording mental stability, it tends to remove the insularity of thought and want of mental elasticity, which is one of the most hopeless and disheartening results of specialization on the part of students who have not brought to their studies the uniform mental training given by a systematic college course. The studies, therefore, are so graded and classified as to be adapted to the mental growth of the student and to the scientific unfolding of knowledge. They are so chosen and communicated that the student will gradually and harmoniously reach, as nearly as may be, that measure of culture of which he is capable.

Much stress is also laid on mental and moral philosophy, as well for the influence such study has in mental development, as for its power in steadying the judgment of the student in his outlook on the world and on life.

With such a definite system to defend against attack, the mind becomes more acute and plastic, the logical powers are strengthened, the value of a proof is properly estimated, the vulnerable points of error are readily detected, and truth comes forth triumphant from every conflict of mind with mind.

The High School Faculty

Spring Hill offers its students a complete education. A student entering high school may continue on through college without change of school. At the same time, however, there is absolute separation of these two departments, each having its own distinct classrooms, dormitories, study halls, dining rooms, campus and student activities. Moreover, there is no overlapping of faculty; each department has its own officers and teachers.

This plan offers the student a very decided advantage. It secures for his course of studies a uniformity of method that can hardly be had otherwise. It precludes interruptions and setbacks that are all but unavoidable when change of school and teaching system is made.

The High School Faculty

Lastly, the system does not share the illusion of those who seem to imagine that education, understood as an enriching and stimulating of the intellectual faculties, has a morally elevating influence in human life. While conceding the effects of education in energizing and refining imagination, taste, understanding and powers of observation, we have always held that knowledge and intellectual development of themselves have no moral efficacy.

So that the purpose of Jesuit teaching is to lay a solid substructure in the whole mind and character for any superstructure of science, professional and special; as well as for the up-building of moral, civil and religious life.

Bon Voyage

The course is run, and the finish
Looms into view as won,
And the sailors rejoice at the outcome,
Happy at duty done.

The tempest has stood in the offing,
The trials have been but small;
And at the end of a voyage propitious
Is marked by the anchor's fall.

But now that the harbor is entered,
A feeling akin to pain
Wells up at the thought of departing,
No more to return again.

And from it there springs a purpose,
To weather the storms and the strife,
To conquer the fears and the perils
That trouble the Ocean of Life.

We shall go out prepared for the voyage,
Strong and determined in will;
To keep faith with the principles taught us
By our mother-love—Spring Hill.

Joe needs no introduction. From the day he entered Spring Hill he began to rise, and he has now attained the greatest popularity and responsibility a student can reach. Joe is heart and soul in Spring Hill. He has worked hard for the college for four years, and was rewarded this year with one of the greatest honors that a Spring Hill man can acquire, the Omicron Sigma medal given to the student who has given Spring Hill the greatest service during the year. Everything of importance was placed in Joe's hands with the certainty that it would be done right. We need only mention his cheer leading since 1923 to convince one of that. We never expect another cheer leader like him, and we never expect such cheering as was had under his leadership.

Joe was born in far-off Hasbeya, Syria, on November 8, 1903, and came here in third high from Jesuit's High School, New Orleans. This year, his achievements include editor-in-chief of the COSAIR, president of the Student Council, president of the Mendel Club, and chairman of the Student Campaign. His work on the COSAIR is especially noteworthy, and we have here before us a certain proof of his success. Joe's manifold duties, however, have not burdened him in his scholastic work, and he leaves Spring Hill a well-educated man with a magna. We only hope Joe regrets leaving Spring Hill as much as we regret having him leave us.

After a life of varied existence in various places, "Moby Dick" finally arrived, as all good men, at Spring Hill. He was born on November 23, 1905, in Minneapolis, Minn., graduated from grade school in Lincoln, Neb., from high school in Shreveport, La., and claims the fair city of Monroe, La., as his present place of abode. We predict that before many years Sam won't have to claim any of these cities for they'll all be claiming him, as in ancient times so many cities sought after Homer. Of course, we don't dare compare him with Homer so soon, but judging from his record and his outstanding abilities, the praises of Samuel E. Burgoyne will one day be sung in other places than Spring Hill.

We can best describe him by his nickname, lately given him, "Moby Dick." Moby Dick was a whale among whales, as Sam in a man among men, mighty in body, serious in mind and strong in purpose, and as "Moby Dick" came out on top in so many battles, so will Sam emerge victorious in the battle of life, and go on to that eternal leadership in Heaven. This year Sam carried away a great honor in winning the Good Conduct Medal.

Powell first saw the light of day at Kentwood, La., on November 11, 1905. He finished high school at Kentwood and came to Spring Hill in 1922.

Pat's fame rests on his oratorical ability, his philosophical tendencies and his ready sarcastic wit. We need only recall that famous debate on the Prohibition question in 1924, and those who witnessed it will readily admit Powell's oratorical superiority. He is also one of the best students of Philosophy at Spring Hill, which is quite a large statement, there being so many good students in the class of '26. Always ready to debate on any question whatsoever, Powell can, if vanquished in point of argument, bring into play his wit, and in a moment turn the argument against his opponents.

Although we've heard nothing from Mr. Casey, we cannot imagine him anything but a lawyer, and as a lawyer we can't imagine him anything but a success. Pat's greatest achievement was his winning the Philosophy Medal this year.

Although Joe now lives in El Paso, Texas, he was born in Mobile on July 13, 1904. He finished his high school course in Barton Academy here, and went to the El Paso Junior College, where he finished in 1924. He then returned to Mobile in September of that year and entered the Junior class of Spring Hill College.

Joe has become known at Spring Hill for three things—Biology, Philosophy and tennis. These preclude a sunny and cheerful disposition. He was a member of the Mendel Biological Society, and his interesting articles on western animals were often seen in the Mendelian. His happy nature, philosophical mind and his ability to analyze should be very valuable in his study of medicine, which he intends to take up.

We'll miss Joe a great deal, as he was always ready to argue any question in philosophy with us, and as he quite frequently illuminated the campus with his smile. However, his time has come to pass on to greater things, so we must give him up to the world, and we know the world will think a lot of him, and that he will never fail to tell the world about Spring Hill.

Bill came to us in Freshman as a quiet little boy with no pretensions to fame, but in the course of the four years he has been at Spring Hill he has won his way into the hearts of his fellows by the sheer force of his good qualities. He's still quiet and unassuming, but now he is known for what he is and holds a high position in the estimation of his fellow Springhillians. "Pemo's" not of the ordinary run of men. He is somewhat different and in that difference lies the secret of his popularity. It's rather intangible but it is surely there.

Bill was born in Natchez, Miss., where he now lives, on September 25, 1906, and came to Spring Hill from Jefferson College Prep School. He has worked hard during his college career, and it is with some regret that we say good-bye to him, although we know he will soon be on his way to the highest things of life.

Jack was born on April 22, 1905, in Sher-rill, Ark., and graduated from grade and high school at Annunciation Academy, Pine Bluff, Arkansas. He entered Spring Hill in September, 1922, when he began the course of studies leading to a B.S. degree.

He has worked hard during his college career, and has gained the esteem and friendship of all by his good nature and sincerity. Not only was he a good student but a good athlete as well, being one of the mainstays of the line during the past football season. Jack has been a leader of all the commercial subjects he has taken at Spring Hill and has become an authority on business transaction among the students.

We understand that Jack anticipates immediate entrance into the business world and feel sure that he will be a success at anything he undertakes. Here's to you, Jack.

Pat takes the palm of antiquity in the class of '26, having entered Spring Hill in September, 1917, as a member of the Preparatory class. He left us for a while, however, and graduated from McGill Institute in 1922. He returned to the fold as a freshman next term, and since then has distinguished himself in nearly every form of college activity. His strong point is probably literature, having been a member of the Springhillian staff and having had the honor of carrying off the English medal in his Junior year. But let us not emphasize this fact too much, lest we cause the supposition that is his only asset. He was a member of the football squad for three years, vice-president of the Mendel Club this year and made the finals in the elocution in the Junior.

Great things are in store for Earle, for he has a keen intellect, a wealth of determination and a conscientious sense of duty. Whether he decides to be lawyer, doctor or Indian chief (and he hasn't decided yet, so he says), he is bound to come through on top, and the class of '26 is destined to be proud of him.

"Gee" is another product of Mobile, having been born there January 3, 1906. He is also another one of the "old boys," since he entered Spring Hill way back in 1918, when the S. A. T. C. was in its glory. He graduated from high school here in 1922 and immediately entered upon his college course.

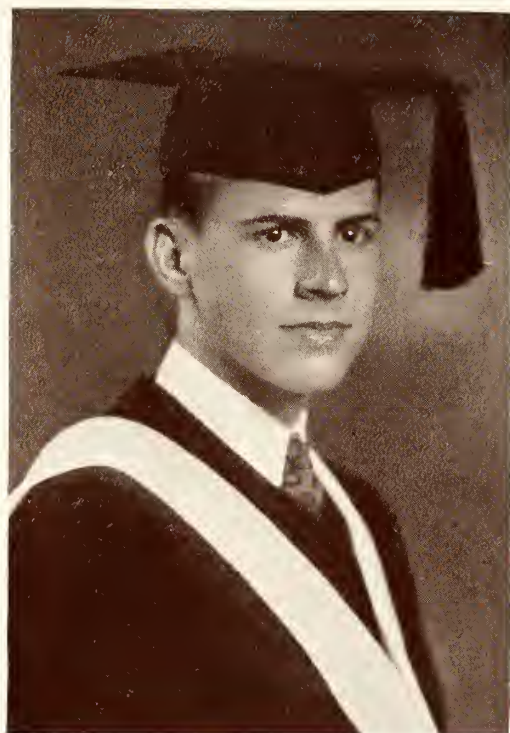

Jimmy Druhan is another of those happy men who go through life making friends on all sides. He is regarded by a large number of Springhillians as not only a friend, but a best friend. And we mean friend in the real sense of the word. Not just a pal, but a person to whom we can turn in trouble. A boy such as "Gee" is, should have no trouble in making his way through the world, for he has a cheery word and a smile for everyone, sure passports through this suspicious world.

He is quite a songbird, having graced the choir with his voice for years, and sure to be missed from it next year, when he is out in the world cheering its soberness with his presence.

"F. O." was born December 31, 1906, in Shreveport, La. He attended St. John's College there and graduated in 1922, from where he came to Spring Hill. "Pud" has been a real Springhillian ever since, and perhaps has made himself most famous for his literary abilities. In his Senior year he was editor of the Springhillian and literary Editor of the Corsair. How well he served the Springhillian may be judged from the fact that the Springhillian has just enjoyed probably the best year of its career, especially from a literary viewpoint. "F. O." was also honored as the first president of the newly organized Poetry Club. Moreover, he belonged to the Portier Literary Society during his four years here, and ended his membership as president for the second term this year.

Not only did he distinguish himself as a litterateur but was also a zealous student in his classes, as well as one of the most popular fellows on the campus. Whatever part in life "Fol" assumes, it will be well played, we are sure, by a real man such as the world needs. He is leaving Spring Hill with a Maxima and the beautiful Religion Medal.

Norville was born at Brewton, Ala., on September 10, 1906, and came, or was brought to Mobile a year later. He received his high school education at the University Military School in Mobile, and came to Spring Hill in 1922. He is another one who left Spring Hill only to return, making his Junior year at the University of Alabama.

Norville can be jolly or serious at will, and is sometimes as playful as a boy, wherefore he is "razzed" considerably by divers of his confreres, which is the surest proof we can give of his popularity. He is another philosopher in the making, a biologist of sorts and a notable student of English. On the other hand he is well skilled at the game of tennis, which requires quite a deal of muscular activity. It can be easily seen that Norville is well fitted for the battle of life, and we have no fears for him.

Pat was born in Augusta, Ga., December 24, 1903. He entered Spring Hill in 1919 from the Academy of Richmond County, where he had gone to high school for two years. He graduated from Spring Hill High in 1921, and made his first two years of college work here. He then went to Holy Cross College in Massachusetts for a year, but the remembrance of times at Spring Hill was too much for him, and he returned to the fold in the fall of '25 to graduate with his beloved companions.

If ever there was a man who loved Spring Hill with a greater strength than did Pat, we would like to cast our eyes upon him. "Squatty's" good nature, his sincerity, his cheerful and sunny disposition made him friends wherever he turned among faculty as well as students. We feel safe in saying that many regrets will be experienced when the roll call is mustered for the first time next fall. And we can already visualize the future when Pat's personality will carry him through the world as surely and with as much ease as it has carried him through college. Nugent was born February 16, 1906 at New Roads, La., and came to Spring Hill, entering first high in the fall of 1918. Nugent is one of our oldest products inasmuch as he has spent eight years within these halls, eight of the most important years of his life. His departure from the walls of Old Spring Hill is as some landmark being taken away from us. Next year and the years to come we shall miss the jovial and witty Frenchman affectionately dubbed "Frog." Spring Hill is proud of her noble son and we know that he is proud of her.

Nugent has excelled in his every undertaking and has always done exceptionally well in his studies, having graduated with a Magna Cum Laude. Though he has never made his letter on the athletic field, Nugent has always gone in for all branches of inter-mural sports, and captained teams both in the basketball and baseball leagues. Why is he so well liked? The solution is simple. When he works, he works; when he plays, he plays. In everything he has done well. Shall we say more?

"His mind his kingdom, and his will his law."

SENIOR CLASS

ATLEE P. STECKLER, B.S.

"Affable Atlee," "Sugar Man"

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Sodality, '20, '21, '22; Portier Literary Society, '26; C. S. M. C., '24, '25, '26; Varsity Football, '20, '21, '22, '23, '24; Alternate Captain, '25; Freshman Football Coach, '26; League Basketball, '23, '24; League Baseball, '23, '24; Baseball Squad, '23, '24; "Corsair" Staff, '26; Poetry Society, '26; Springhill Endowment Campaign, '26; Mendel Society, '23, '24, '26; Golf Club, '23, '24; Band, '23, '24.

It's Steck's individuality that makes him stand out in front of the rank of ordinary mortals. He is different. Whether better or worse than others it is not our place to say. We leave that to those who know him, with no doubt whatever as to the verdict. His ever-present smile itself is enough to win the friendship of anyone, and it is nothing more than the outward sign of his disposition. Steck's as good natured as anyone we have ever known, and we never expect to find his better. We can deduce as much from his nickname, "Sugar Man," though we are certain he didn't get the name for that reason. The reason is personal . . .

But although good nature helps one to bear the misfortunes of life, it takes more to succeed, and what it takes, Steck has. He is a born leader, and the world is badly in need of such, and he is what is termed a "go-getter," as witness the fact that he carried off all the honors in the Spring Hill campaign. So there is no doubt that Steck will be among the leaders of the class of '26 when it assembles again at Spring Hill.

*"And what he greatly thought,
he nobly dared."*

"Old Man," "Patriarch"

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Freshman Football Team, '22; Sophomore Football Team, '23; League Basketball, '23, '24, '25, '26; Captain, '24, '25, '26; League Baseball, '23, '24, '25, '26; Captain, '23, '24, '25, '26; Circulation Manager "Springhillian," '26; Art Editor, "Corsair," '26.

"Les" is the old man of the class of '26, not in age, for he is just at the right age, but in mind, appearance, ideals, habits. Appearances must be stressed, as witness the lack of hair about his forehead. His mind, well, it is only old in knowledge, and that's surely a senility to be proud of and thankful for.

"The Patriarch" hails from the Crescent City, where he was born on April 27, 1904, and has attended Spring Hill since 1920, when he entered third high. He is quiet and taciturn, as we've already implied, but he has taken part in all inter-mural athletics, football, basketball and baseball, especially baseball, having captained and managed his team in the leagues for four years, which is quite a tribute to his ability. We can picture "Les" as the stern and business-like president of the Board of Trade or of some great corporation in years to come. We wish you luck, "Old Man" wherever you may be or in whatever you will undertake.

"Stodious of ease and fond of humble things."

MOBILE, ALA.

Portier Literary Society, '26; Mendel Biological Society, '25, '26; Orchestra, '23, '24, '25, '26; Band, '23, '24, '25, '26.

Neil came to us from Mobile, where he was born on October 25, 1905. Having been a day scholar in the four years he has been in college he has not had the opportunities of making himself prominent in many activities, but in those in which he has taken part he has shone brilliantly. Neil has above all the reputation of being a hard worker, and by this alone he has impressed his fellow class members, so that he leaves us a well-respected personage.

Among other things this quiet lad has the good fortune to be an excellent musician. He was a member of the orchestra until it disbanded, and a member of the band for three years. We can hardly conceive the band without Neil. Again he is probably one of the best students of mechanical drawing Spring Hill has ever had. Whether it is in-born, or whether he attained his pre-eminence by hard work, is immaterial. It is enough to say that there is none better. Neil has quite a variety of choice in the matter of a life calling; and not much chance of failure in any he elects to follow.

"A strong mind prompted by noble purposes."

Athletic Council

MR. HAROLD T. GAUDIN, S.J.
Athletic Director

The enviable record made in athletics this year is not due wholly to the efforts of the team, or coaching staff, or the rooters who so loyally supported Badger teams on every field, but to the Athletic Council as well.

Through close co-operation with the players and seeing that all training rules were carefully obeyed; through the management of the finances of the Athletic Department, and his efforts to upbuild Spring Hill athletics, Mr. Gaudin has won for himself a place of honor and esteem, and has done much toward making an enviable record of the 1925 season.

This year, more than ever before, the team has had a large amount of fine publicity and write-ups in the Mobile Register and other big southern dailies. For this work we thank our capable business manager, Thomas A. Ford. The Athletic Council was very fortunate in having Tom as its publicity man and we look forward to reading more of his fine stories next fall.

When our Badgers line up for the opening kick-off next year, Joe, our master pep artist for the last three years, will not be there to start the "Skyrocket" booming. No more will we hear him lead a "Ram" nor will we see him in his own effective way beating time for an "Alma Mater." Admired, loved and respected by all, Joe charmed the spectators and inspired the rooting section. He gave it what it wanted and got out of it what he wanted. The results, no other mortal could secure. When we saw him, megaphone in hand, talking and pleading, swaying and girating before the crowded stands, that spirit breathed uniting hundreds of individuals into one organized whole, pulsating with the same blood, fighting with the same heart, loving the same ideals and cheering with one voice.

Joe performed best when the team needed him most. After hard-fought victories, and defeats for that matter, too, sweat begrimed players would grasp his hand and say, "You helped us, Joe, thank you." Joe's inevitable answer would be, "Anybody could do it with that bunch in the stands today." But we know that anybody could not.

When Joe graduated, Spring Hill lost the best cheer leader she has ever had. We will miss and need him, but his magnificent spirit will live on and thrill our hearts for years to come.

EDDIE McEVoy

Coaching Staff

Spring Hill College is exceptionally fortunate in having William "Barb" Daly as head coach of Badger athletics. One of the greatest ends to ever don the Purple of Holy Cross College, Daly took charge of the squad at Grand Coteau. His work there speaks for itself. Jesuits High School was the next scene of his activities, and there he put out the first Blue Jay championship team. With a fine record behind him he came to us from Loyola University of New Orleans. The very least we can say is that he has lived up to his past performances.

From a squad that was completely shattered by graduation and swamped with green material, he built one that piled up a record against the best college team of the South. He built a fighting machine of true sportsmen. Fight, fight, clean and game to the last. That is the characteristic of Spring Hill teams.

From a team that was not considered opposition a few years back he launched forth a baseball team that created much flurried comment in all collegiate sport circles. His knowledge of the game and his keen insight into human nature, especially that of college men, aided him materially in creating the unusual interest in athletics as seen about Spring Hill this year.

No less fortunate is Spring Hill in having Daly as chief mentor than it is in having Atlee Steckler, perhaps the greatest guard turned out at Spring Hill in recent years, as Freshman coach; or, Eddie McEvoy, for three years the mainstay of the Badger backfield and perhaps the fleetest and most sought after player in Southern footballdom, as captain. We have seen Eddie play his last game for old Spring Hill with much regret. His spectacular broken field running and long dashes through masses of tacklers will be long remembered. He is truly a great athlete, gentleman and student. We shall look long and wide for another captain of the type that Eddie has set forth as a standard.

Review of the Season

With the first call to practice on September first, the gridiron season of 1925 started off with a bang. A fine looking squad reported and prospects looked very bright under the tutelage of Coach William "Barb" Daly. When the school term opened and the students began to pour into the registrar's office the enthusiasm ran high at the great increase in enrollment of the Freshman class. Never before had Spring Hill seen so many new faces in the class rooms and on the practice field. Practically every able-bodied student on the campus reported for duty. This condition of affairs somewhat offset the losses incurred by the team, owing to the graduation of the entire first line from last year's eleven.

So for ten days prior to the formal opening, Old King Sol found Coach Daly and his charges going through the formulae which are deemed as necessary to condition a team for football. The eagerness exhibited in practice, even under the most adverse weather conditions was edifying to the new coach. At times the mercury soared up to 108. This, however, was only the fore-shadow of the real fighting and never-die spirit the team was to demonstrate during the ensuing season.

The opening day found some sixty-odd aspirants seeking berths. The majority never having played the game before coming to Spring Hill. The veterans were: Backfield—Bandi, Babe and Eddie McEvoy, Athey, Barbin and Halloran.

LYSSO COCO

Linesmen comprised Murphy, Roy, Cratcher, Burgoyne, Coco, Valenta, Stroecker and Casey. With these men as a nucleus, the proposition of building a team out of purely green material faced the new coach.

The high school department contributed Stokes and Ryan to our camp. Atlee Steckler, alternate captain and strong guard of previous seasons, who was incapacitated by injuries in last year's L. S. U. game, returned to help his team mates by coaching the multitude of Freshmen who were "raring" to go. His good work will undoubtedly show itself in the reserve squad for next year.

The squad gradually rounded into shape and about the middle of September practice began to resolve itself into real football and so for the next two weeks, Coach Daly was fashioning an eleven for the opening game, with Alabama State Normal on October third.

The actual playing season opened up rather slowly for the Purple line. True it is that the Badgers triumphed over the up-state team, thus getting off on the right foot, but the score was in no way commensurate with the real strength and activity of our team. The greenness of the new men was evident, gun-shy, so to speak. The excessive heat had much to do with the low score and neither team was able to display their best game. Two thrills were the order of the day.

First, Eddie received a kick-off and led his way through the opposition for 78 yards. Secondly, Babe McEvoy, after having fumbled the ball recovered it and eluded a number of tacklers to finally complete a long pass for good yardage. Irvine and Stokes on the line did some great work at stopping the inroads of Normal's superb ends. The game ended 7-0. One scalp to the good.

Quite improved in the following fray, the doughty Badger backed into a corner and clawed Clarke College for a 13-0 count. The Clarke aggregation held their ground in many pinches and though repulsed at repeated intervals, the Hillians showed a strong driving power. In facing this stronger team it was amply demonstrated that our boys had found themselves. Again, the mercury had dropped a few pegs making the game easier to play. Machine-like interference characterized every maneuver. As in the previous combat, "Our Own Eddie" was the mainstay of the Hill offense, ably assisted by Doug Barbin, who quite a few times zig-zagged some beautiful runs. Ray Kennedy, a new addition to the backfield, showed great driving power in bucking the line. Roy, Irvine and Stroecker, with the help of their team mates, constituted the best of our defense.

The Badgers continued their stellar brand of playing. In the next fracas with the Marion Cadets, they came off on the long end of a 24-0 score. Such tackling and interference was never before seen on the gridiron at Monroe Park. The Badger had really come into his own. They had that final punch which drives the ball across the line when in striking distance of the opposing goal. 'Twas nothing short of keen and snappy football. It was in this game that Leon Athey made his debut, and under his generalship the team worked like some well-oiled mechanism. In the first quarter he slipped through the center of the line for the first touchdown of the game. In the second frame, Kennedy bucked 15 yards for a score and was almost immediately followed by Cassidy catching a 25-yard toss for another tally. Though closely watched, Eddie as usual flitted all over the field like a phantom. He was well chased. It is hard to pick out any star on the line. They all worked hard and well, breaking through the defense much to the dismay of the Cadet backs. Ryan also came through, and for a youngster, made quite a hit with his fine backing of the line. Parker, who gave us so much trouble last year, repeated his stuff but proved harmless in the face of Hill tackles.

Three games have been won. The boys are all pepped up for the tilt with the little Rock College Eagles in the latter's nest. Alas, her comes the fly in the ointment. We lost, 14-7. Heretofore the purple line had been uncrossed. The defeat was indeed a victory. If ever a team was handicapped by tonnage, slime, mud and rain, our little eleven takes the blue rihbon. Our joy knew no bounds when we received the first telegram, which read, "Field a sea of mud. Out-weighed twenty pounds to a man. Team is sailing out on the sea. Spring Hill kicks off to Little Rock, who are held for downs. Standing on his own fifteen-yard line Eddie McEvoy receives punt and wiggles through mud and Eagles for touchdown. The Badgers were so many fighting fiends or better yet, enraged whales in the instance. The weight of mud and Arkansans were too much and the Hillians slowly gave up inch hy inch, fighting tooth and nail, to succumb 14-7 in the end. Though outplaying the opposition in the final period, victory eluded our grasp.

The next game was one of the cleanest and best games of football seen round these parts in many a day. To make a long story short, they came, they saw, they conquered. The Hatters of Stetson University arrived one night to leave the next with a 6-5 scalp tucked under their hat brims. It was one of those games where Fate plays dirty tricks on the most deserving.

Even after they had won, the victors admitted without a shadow of doubt that they were undeserving of the game and that the best team lost. We shall say, however, that the elevens were evenly matched inasmuch as gained at will through the center of the line, while they skirted our ends with uncomfortable regularity. It was almost a case of an evenly matched tug-o-war. Each had a knack of smearing interference and spilling the runners. Lincoln White, playing his first college game, proved a thorn in the side of the Hatters and shortly afterwards Stetson got the break, the one and only break of the game which gave them the silver spurs. It came about when Bemord kicked and the ball like some will-o-the-wisp floated over the goal line only to be pounced upon by a speedy Floridian back. Spring Hill's five points came as a result of a drop kick by Stokes and a safety by Bemord.

Invading the Crescent City, the next encounter was laid in the den of the Loyola Wolves. In this game the fighting spirit of the team and of the student body was demonstrated to the world and the world looked on and approved. The entire student body chartered a special train to support their heroes. As they saw their team go down in defeat before some more tonnage and handicaps, the loyal band stuck to the finish and cheered their warriors for their fight, if not for their victory. The Badgers were unable to score against the Wolves. We couldn't even put it over in the third quarter, when by a series of terrific drives our backfield brought the ball within a yard of the Wolverine goal.

It was in this game that Babe McEvoy played the best game in his career as he drove the ball through every section of the Maroon line, and that in which Buck Halloran played three quarters with a broken shoulder. Such are the men of Spring Hill. The work of Irvine and Stroecker was spectacular, while for Loyola "Red" Gremillion and Walet did most of the damage.

We had no idea that marvellous track team existed in our midst until the Purple Wave trotted out to meet the Teachers from Mississippi State Normal, who succumbed in the Badger lair to a tune of 40-0. It was the largest score a Spring Hill team had piled up on an opponent in several years. Though out-generated and out-played, the Teachers fought gamely to the last and died like true heroes. Frequent fumbles near the goal line in the initial period marked the Hillian plays, but they soon found the weakness in the opposing line and from then on touchdowns were made as regularly as passing time. Two touchdowns in each of the last three periods. To choose any luminary above the others would be an impossibility as the entire team worked with remarkable accuracy and efficiency of tackling and of interference. It was edifying, however, to see many of the first year men bring glory on themselves and upon their Alma Mater.

Like everything else, the football season came to an end when on Thanksgiving Day, for the third consecutive year, we met the Union Bulldogs at Monroe Park.

It started under a darkened sky which became darker and darker for Spring Hill. The whistle had hardly blown, when both teams found themselves slipping and sliding in a pouring deluge. The gridiron was better suited for a great game of water polo. With a fine record behind them, the Tennesseans arrived with a tall, rangy aggregation of heavy material which completely dwarfed our lads as they stepped out upon the sea of battle. It was one of those skirmishes in which every effort was put forth to conquer, with the laurels going to Union wound around a score of 18-13. At first, it was a nip and tuck affair, each club scoring in short order. Things were running smoothly as oil until a tall individual, Stewart by name, threw a wrench into our works. He, it was, who made two of their touchdowns and those two long runs which thrilled the crowd of four thousand spectators. One was for 80 yards and the other for seventy. The game was replete with thrills and hair-raising stunts, the second quarter furnishing the headliner. Here goes. Spring Hill was leading 13-6. Eddie McEvoy received the ball on his 5-yard line and sprinted 65 yards toward the Union goal where upon being tackled he fumbled, much to the dismay of the S. H. stands. Union recovered. On the next play Stewart ran the ball back 70 yards for his team's second touchdown. Some thrill, eh? Hugh McEvoy and Halloran did some stellar work in Spring Hill's attack while on the line Crutcher, Roy, Valenta and Irvine acquitted themselves with great honor. So ended the season of 1925. Here's to the season of 1926.

A Tribute

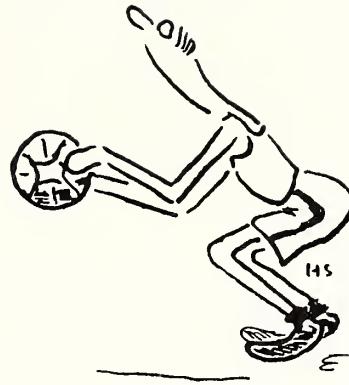

We bow our heads in tribute to the silent martyrs, to the backbone of our spirit, to the personification of perseverance, to our heroes of obscurity—our lowly scrubs. The men who bore the brunt of fierce scrimmage, who stuck out the grind of daily practice, unknown, unheralded—the men behind the scenes. It is no easy job to get out there day after day and go through the gruelling practices prescribed as necessary to play the game. It was no cinch to plow up and down the field in hard scrimmage holiday after holiday not once slacking up, while many of their schoolmates lounged along the boulevard and looked on.

About 160 hours of work, full of perspired efforts and physical exertion was spent in the endeavor to put into shape an eleven that would never feel their real value and one that would be worthy to represent Alma Mater on the gridiron.

The varsity had opportunities to display their valor and courage before the cheering crowds, while the scrubs ate the campus dust and gave their all with the bricks of the boulevard their silent audience. The spirit of the scrub squad is shown in the sacrifice of individual energy and personal glory to the greater glory of Spring Hill. This is the characteristic of Spring Hill teams, each man giving his all for the glory of the Purple and White. May their heritage by which Spring Hill is known never die. But let us carry it on, greater than ever before so that the name of Spring Hill, whenever sounded means Loyalty, Spirit and Love for the dear old school that is ours.

Basketball and Leagues

HIS year, the Athletic Department found it impossible to launch forth the basketball program as has been heretofore carried out. We had practically the same team as that of the former season and many likely prospects from the Freshman Class, but difficulties arose in the securing of games. Not being enrolled in the membership of any Athletic Associations and as practically all desirable teams were member of either the S. I. A. A. or the Southern Conference, who could only play teams in their associations, Spring Hill's possibilities for basketball competition were nil. This, however, did not prohibit our rounding into shape a quintet for next year.

Coach Daly called out all basketball candidates and before long had garnered from among the Freshmen a formidable aggregation whose strength proved a surprise and a revelation to the students as well to the coach. Practices were held regularly and games were scheduled with town and class teams. The results were edifying, leaving all looking forward to a powerful team next year.

Among age-old traditional activities at Spring Hill are the "Leagues." Many old timers and new can look back upon their careers in the leagues with smiles of satisfaction and delight. They are fostered by the Student Council for the purpose of furnishing all students with an opportunity to engage in athletic sports. The teams comprise students from all the classes whose members are chosen by Seniors from the lists of those who signed up for the playing season.

Competition is very keen and commands considerable attention, not only from the students, but from fans in Mobile as well, who follow the results in the papers with much interest. The enthusiasm and zest with which the teams play has been the cause of much merriment and comedy on the part of the onlookers.

Various games and sports are promoted, the most popular, perhaps, being basketball, handball, baseball and tennis. For the last few years, what might be called League Football made its appearance and was also proven popular among the contestants. Trophies and prizes are given to the members of the team which comes out on top with the most number of victories.

It is from these ranks that the varsity is fed with much fine material. Many numerous examples could be cited, but it is sufficient to say that many a Spring Hill star received his start in the first, second and third leagues.

Review of the Season

Sport chroniclers of the future in searching out Badger history can follow back through musty sport lanes until they come upon the record marked "1925." It is the season that marked the opening of the modern era. For 1925 produced the team that fought the Hillians into the spotlight of collegiate baseball. That year a sleeping Badger awakened and suddenly took a long stride forward and tossed his glove into the ring of big time baseball.

By holding the Mobile Bears 3-0 in a game replete with thrills before the collegiate season opened, the Badgers demonstrated that they had a real ball club. George Ryan held them hitless until the third inning. We secured five hits to their six. Rosasco ended the game on the mound.

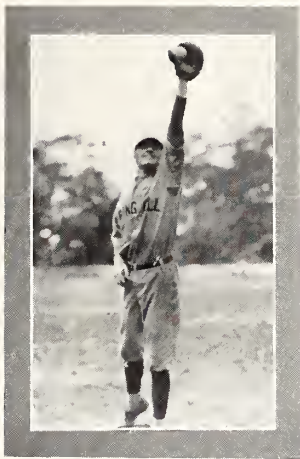

SPRING HILL 7; AVIATORS 0

The first game of the 1926 collegiate series with the Pensacola Aviators was called off due to rain. The following day the boys got off to a flying start when Joe Tedesco pitched his teammates to a brilliant 7-0 win over the Airmen. The Hillians socked the ball for eleven safeties, while Tedesco only allowed the Aviators four hits, and those well scattered. The big sticks of H. McEvoy, Hertzog and Tedesco led the batting attack with two blows out of four attempts. Bud Stroecker exhibited some fast fielding, going far into deep center, robbing the Aviators of several safeties.

MISSISSIPPI A. & M. 2; SPRING HILL 0

In the second game of the year, the Mississippi A. & M. team took the long end of a 2-0 score. This game was an excellent mound duel between Chapman of the Aggies and Hugh McEvoy of the Hill. Babe yielded only three hits and Chapman gave only two. The fielding on both sides was spectacular and no one stood out above his teammates. The deciding factor of the game was a high fly ball off the end of Loewer's stick which hit upon the top of the left field fence and fell over for a home run, sending in a base runner.

MISSISSIPPI A. & M. 6; SPRING HILL 3

The following day the Aggies again captured the big end of a 6-3 score. This game was as slow and uninteresting as the previous day's was fast and brilliant. Hitting honors were about equal, the Aggies securing nine while we were able to garner seven. The Badgers made six mistakes while the Aggies committed five. Eddie McEvoy and Halloran shone with the stick for us, while Graham did some very sparkling fielding around the first sack. George Ryan started the game for the Hill but was relieved by Joe Tedesco, who held them at bay as he had done on the previous day.

SPRING HILL 8; HOWARD 1

Against the Howard Bulldogs, Joe Tedesco pitched invincible ball and his teammates came through with hits when hits were needed, resulting in another game being chalked up in the won column. Only four Howard men connected with Joe's offerings for safe blows. Spring Hill walloped three Howard hurlers for eleven hits and a safe margin. Hugh McEvoy, Ed McEvoy and Tedesco with three blows apiece, were the sluggers of the day, the former two getting home runs and Joe Tedesco getting a three-bagger. Athey, Halloran and Murphy played a stellar fielding game. One of the prettiest catches ever seen around the boulevard was turned in by the Howard center fielder.

SPRING HILL-AUBURN (RAIN)

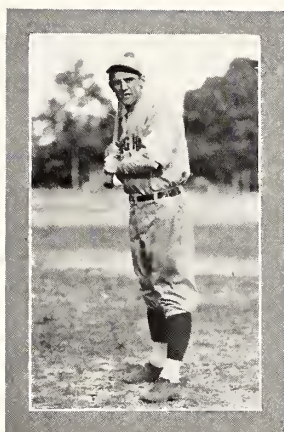

SPRING HILL 9; LOYOLA 2

In the first of a four-game series Spring Hill triumphed over Loyola University, 9-2. Despite the big score the game was a good pitching battle. Babe retired fourteen Loyola batsmen by the strikeout route, walked only one and gave up only six hits. Dunbar, opposing hurler, pitched a nice game, fanning ten Hillians, but six errors by his team mates cost him the game. Halloran, Athey and Graham were strong at the bat for the Hill, each securing two blows off the Loyola hurler.

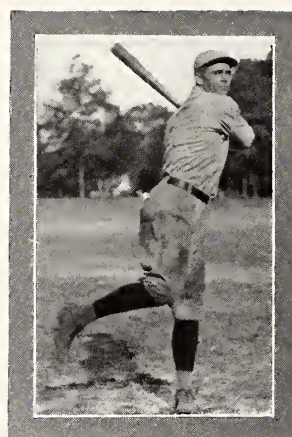

LOYOLA 12; SPRING HILL 8

In the second game of the series Loyola turned the tables. The game was a comedy of errors and resounding base smacks.

Spring Hill obtained eleven hits off Noble and Dunbar but had four boots chalked up against them. Loyola gathered thirteen hits off Tedesco and Rosasco and made six miscues in the field. Eddie and Stroecker led at the bat for us, each getting three hits. Every man on Loyola except one got at least one hit.

LOYOLA 8; SPRING HILL 7

Spring Hill opened her first road trip of the season with the Loyola in New Orleans. The Badgers lost a tough ten inning struggle with the Wolves. Failure to hit in the pinches cost us the game. Our sixteen hits against Loyola's nine went for naught. The game was very close until Loyola won out in the tenth on a single, a passed ball and a sacrifice fly. Murphy, Stroecker, Halloran and E. McEvoy added to their batting averages with three hits each.

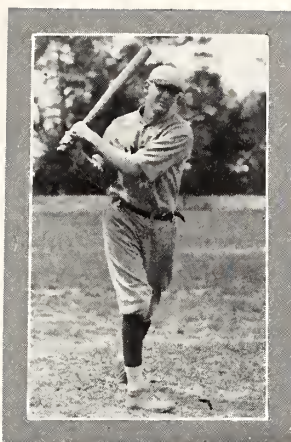

SPRING HILL 10; LOYOLA 2

The Badgers came back in the second game of the New Orleans series and evened it up by taking the second fray by the score of 10-2. The loose playing manifested by the Hillians on the previous day was lacking and the Badgers slapped the ball for 10 hits and 10 runs. Joe Tedesco let the Wolves down with only six hits and was master of his game throughout. He struck out seven Loyola batsmen and kept their hits well scattered. The game was close until the seventh inning, when Spring Hill rallied and scored seven runs to insure the victory. Hertzof, Murphy and the two McEvoy's were strong with the ash and obtained extra base hits.

SPRING HILL 4; ST. STANISLAUS 1

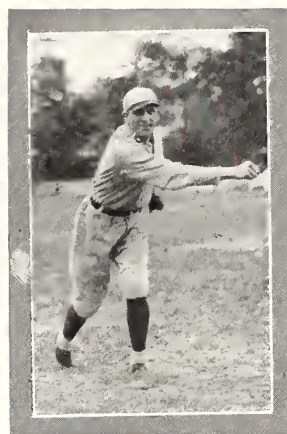

Spring Hill walked off with the first game of the St. Stanislaus series by the score of 4-1. The game was one of the finest of the season. George Ryan, pitching for the Hill, hurled in fine form, giving up only one hit until the ninth and then three in that stanza, on the merit of which the Saints counted their lone tally. Fine support in the field helped Ryan. The combination of Athey to Halloran to Graham turned in three double plays, while Murphy to Halloran caught a few steals. In this game the Badgers got off to a flying start.

SPRING HILL 1; ST. STANISLAUS 3

In the second game of this series the Badgers tasted defeat. La Nasa, Stanislaus hurler, kept the Hillians baffled through the game. Rosasco, Tedesco and Babe all hurled fine ball, but our sluggers were unable to hit in the pinches. Spring Hill continued their fine work in the field, turning in two fast and snappy double plays.

SPRING HILL 8; MARION 6

The Badgers returned home and won a thrilling game from Marion in the last of the ninth. In the first inning our infield blew up and the Cadets chalked up four runs. Spring Hill kept one or two runs behind the Soldiers until the eighth, when we broke loose for three runs to win the game. Eddie pulled a trick, rare around Spring Hill when he secured a home run inside the diamond, a feat that has been equalled but once on this campus and that by George Sisler of the St. Louis Browns. The Hillians rang up fourteen safeties but had a bad day in the field with six boots. Marion also hit the ball hard, obtaining ten hits off McEvoy, Ryan and Tedesco. Otherwise they played errorless ball.

SPRING HILL 8; MARION 7

Another thriller, with the Badgers scoring three runs in the ninth marked the second of the Marion series. Up to the sixth inning the Cadets held a lead of six runs, but we scored two in the sixth, three in the seventh and three more in the last stanza to win out 8-7. The game was even more thrilling than the previous day's contest. With one down in the ninth, the Hillians started a rally which resulted in the team going over the top and breaking up a nice ball game as far as Marion was concerned. Spring Hill clouted twelve hits to Marion's thirteen, but the Cadets committed six miscues to our four.

SPRING HILL 7; PENSACOLA 4

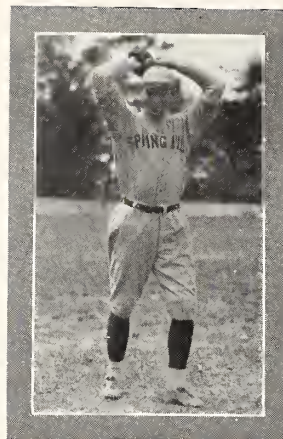

The Spring Hill Badgers overcame the Pensacola Aviators at Pensacola in their second game. George Ryan held the airmen at bay, they being able to amass only seven hits. Stroecker and Halloran led in hitting with two each, one of Stroecker's being over the fence for a homer.

With a four-run handicap the Hillians came from behind in the eighth to win by a 7-4 count.

BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN 11; SPRING HILL 8

The Birmingham-Southern Panther stalked the Spring Hill Badger in the first game of the Magic City series and the Birmingham team walked off with the big end of a 11-8 score. We out-hit the Panthers 15-12, but numerous miscues on the part of the Badgers enabled the up-staters to take the first encounter. Halloran with two home runs and a double out of four trips to the plate led the Spring Hill hitters, while E. McEvoy and Murphy each secured three blows, as did Graham.

SPRING HILL 9; BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN 1

Babe McEvoy turned the tables in the second by yielding only four hits and two free passes, trouncing the Panthers 9-1. The Birmingham clan started off by scoring a tally in the first stanza. Spring Hill retaliated and tied it up in the second and in the fifth they broke loose and scored five markers. "Buck" Halloran secured a homer and a single while Murphy also secured two hits.

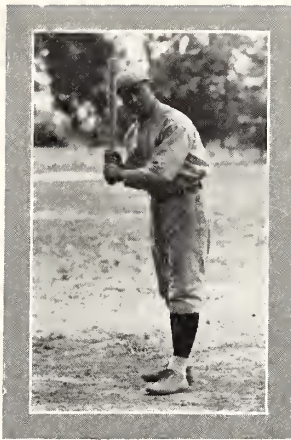

HOWARD 7; SPRING HILL 3

In a return engagement, Howard reversed and triumphed over the lads 7-3 on our own diamond. Our scoring was confined to the first two innings, while Howard registered in the first, third, fourth and fifth. Murphy and Herpin led the hitting of Spring Hill, while Tedesco, though touched for a few safeties pitched a nice game.

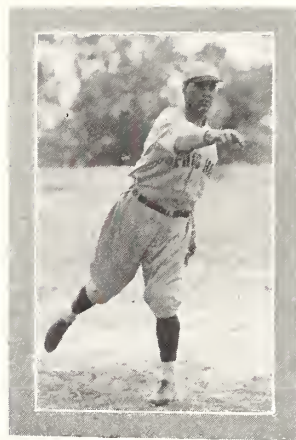

SPRING HILL 11; MARION 5

The second series with Marion proved to be a double victory for the Badgers. In the first game of this series, Ryan and Rosasco pitched their teammates to a 11-5 victory in ten innings. No one stood out above the others. Our fielding was great and we hit the apple regularly for a nice win. "Speedy" was heavy with the willow, slamming out four hits out of five trips to the rubber. This victory started the Badgers off on a winning streak which continued to the end of the collegiate season, piling up eight consecutive wins.

The following day we took our fourth game and the series from Marion in a 4-3, twelve-inning thriller. "Babe" went the whole route for the Hill, allowing only three runs. Fine support was given him by his team. Stroecker made two beautiful catches of line drives to shut off runs. And they did some snappy fielding. Hertzog and Halloran took all the batting honors.

SPRING HILL 4; BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN 0

On returning home, Spring Hill trounced the Birmingham-Southern Panthers 4-0 in the first of a two-game series. Getting the jump and scoring four runs in the first two innings, the Badgers came out on top in a game which grew tighter as the innings went on. Tedesco was "sittin' on top of the world," and pitched a three-hit, no run game. The Purple and White went errorless and after the first two innings the game settled down to a battle which resulted into goose eggs for each team until the game was over. Murphy slapped out two hits and Athey poled one over the wall.

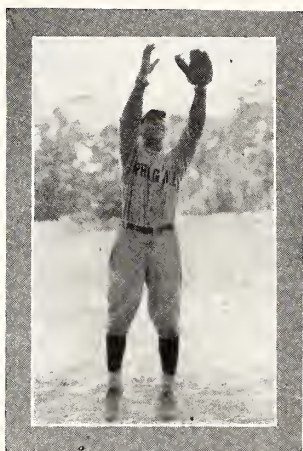

SPRING HILL 11; BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN 2

By winning the last game 11-2, making three out of four. Spring Hill took the series from the claws of the Magic City Panthers. For six innings "Babe" McEvoy ambled along and had them eating off his hand, while his companions were slamming out fifteen base hits. Athey fielded nicely besides getting a home run and a single out of five trips to the plate. The two McEvoy's and Herpin also hit the apple hard.

SPRING HILL 12; ALUMNI 0

We enjoyed a field day at the expense of the alumni on Badger diamond. Sunday, May 9, on the occasion of the Louisiana Alumni Homecoming Day. Scoring four runs in the first inning, the Badgers started on a rampage and ran up a total of twelve runs before the afternoon faded. George Ryan hurled for us and gave up one scratch hit to Hal Whiting for the Old Timers' only bingle. Every man hit safely and Eddie continued his steady clouting.

Spring Hill defeated the St. Stanislaus aggregation in the third of a four-game series by the score of 10-5. Two previous games in which the teams had taken one frame each, had been played on the Saints' field. Tedesco pitched for the Hill and held the Stanislaus team in check, except in the fourth inning when they scored three runs. We procured 14 hits and errors as against their nine hits and three errors. The McEvoy brothers and Murphy hit hard, each getting three safeties.

SPRING HILL 3; ST. STANISLAUS 2

The curtain was rung down on the Spring Hill collegiate season when a 3-2 victory was achieved over the St. Stanislaus team in the final game of the series. This, the Badgers' eighth consecutive win, gave them the Southern Catholic College Championship. "Babe" was in fine form, giving up only four safe smacks. The title was cinched in the last of the ninth when Stroecker scored on Athey's long sacrifice. LaNasa, of the visitors, donated five hits. Spring Hill committed two errors, the Saints, three.

Thus concluded a most successful season as far as colleges are concerned. Three games played with Smith's Bakery resulted in our winning two games 24-5 and 16-4 and losing one 7-9. Out of twenty-five games played, the Badgers won 17 and lost 8, for an average of .680. With such a good team this year and with practically the entire muster returning next fall, we can look forward to an even more successful season for 1927. Coach Daly truly turned out a real ball club. Our hats are off to Bill Daly and the team of 1926!

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS

Review of the Season

By J. Rizzo

MR. GEORGE DAY, S.J.
Athletic Director

When Coach Donahue called the first practice of the 1925 season at Spring Hill High School, nine letter men answered the call. For the first two weeks of practice light workouts were the order of the day and soon "Billy" had the team down to hard scrimmage.

The veterans around which we were to pin our hopes for the '25 season were as follows: Captain Robert Holcombe, Alternate Captain Julian Craddick, Joe Mares, C. J. Lousille, Paul Bonham, Otis Gilmore, Francis Winters, Jimmy Murphy and Felix Broussard. These men were the nucleus of the '25 team.

Among the new men playing their first year on the team the following showed up in fine form: Tim Dugas, playing his first year of organized football, furnished not a few thrills by his uncanny runs; Cal Wilkinson and Jimmy Murphy brings up the list of new backfield luminaries. On the line Tonsmiere, Tom Long, Earl Schneider, Clinton Voelkel and Laurence Barras were the stellar newcomers.

With an outfit of willing and co-operating workers Coach Donahue soon had a very promising team, one that would prove hard to defeat. That the Hill High had a great team was made more evident when we received an offer for a post-season game in Chicago. We were unable, however, to accept the offer on account of previous arrangements of the Athletic Council.

Review of the Season

The team of '25 lacked none of the fight and enthusiasm characteristic of all Spring Hill squads. This factor was especially predominant in the Barton game, where with only forty seconds to play, the boys turned defeat into victory and won the city championship of Mobile. Spring Hill's was truly a great season. One never to be forgotten. A team that shall always be remembered.

Our first opponent was Pascagoula High of Pascagoula, Mississippi. This game was a decided upset as we had expected to defeat them by a good margin. The trip was made minus the services of Captain Holcombe, our first string quarter, but Cal Wilkinson filled the gap quite admirably. The game was well played and hard-fought but the end found the score deadlocked 0-0. The outstanding star of the game was Julian Graddick. The entire line played true to form except in periods when their best was the only thing that could have mattered.

Our next opponent was the Harristou Stone Agricultural College. Spring Hill again fought a hard game, but the superior weight of their opponents proved to be their downfall.

High School passed up several beautiful chances to score, owing to errors in judgment. At one period of the game we were almost in sight of a touchdown. Holcombe passed to Mares who jumped high in the air back of the goal line, but upon being tackled dropped the ball and the officials ruled the pass incomplete. The final score was 6-0 in favor of the Aggies.

The jinx that seemed to be pursuing us in our first two games suddenly disappeared, for we decisively defeated our next opponent, Bay Minnette, 21-0. Our boys were off to a flying start by taking the kick-off to the forty-yard line and launching a driving attack which resulted in a touchdown by Gilmore in the first few minutes of play. The first score was followed by two more in nice order.

In our next game we continued our victorious march by downing Biloxi High 24-0. The scoring started in the early part of the first quarter, but the Badgers were held in the next two frames. Biloxi played a fine defensive game but weakened in the last quarter when the Hillians came back strong and scored two touchdowns thus bringing another victory to the Purple and White.

The contest for the championship of the City of Mobile began when Spring Hill met and defeated the University Military School at Monroe Park on November fifteenth.

Beginning with a surprising offensive the Wright's boys swept the Hillians the field for a touchdown in the very first period. Pep and energy was well displayed as they broke up the Badger plays and wheeled off long end runs. The Junior Badgers soon found themselves and the half ended 6-6. The third quarter was a give and take affair in which neither team found it possible to score. The game threatened to end in a close tie until the superior strength of the fighting Badger came into prominence in the form of a deadly passing combination of Holcombe to Mares. A touchdown was scored, the goal kicked and the game won, 13-6. So much for the first game of the "Big Three Series."

In the gamest and the most thrilling exhibition of fast football ever seen on a local gridiron, Spring Hill defeated Barton in the last forty seconds of play and won the City Championship of Mobile.

In the first quarter, the ball remained in midfield, changing hands frequently. In the last five minutes Barton received a punt and by driving to our six-yard line, finally put the ball over on a pass. The attempt to kick goal failed.

With the ball 75 yards from the goal line Captain Holcombe coolly measured the distance and threw the ball into the waiting arms of Joe Mares for a gain of forty yards. Another pass was attempted and failed. Then Holcombe's trusty arm let loose a bullet-like pass which was gathered up by Julian Graddick who fell over the goal line to tie the score. Pandemonium broke loose. Finally everyone settled back in expectant silence, confiding in the trusty toe of Captain Holcombe. Calmly the team lined up, calmly the ball was snapped and just as calmly Captain Holcombe booted his way to glory with a perfect dropkick, thus answering the prayers of many Hillians and winning the City Championship for Spring Hill. Score: Spring Hill 7; Barton 6.

After winning this coveted title the Hillians seemed to be invincible, as far as local teams were concerned, but strange to say we lost our next encounter to Pensacola High School on Thanksgiving Day. A lone field goal was all that separated the final scores, which was 3-0. It is said that the Badgers played a real brand of football and demonstrated that fighting spirit of the furry animal to the satisfaction of all and which is the dominant trait of all Badger teams. We are fully confident that we will take them in camp when the two teams meet next year.

The first post season game ever witnessed in Mobile proved to be very disastrous for the lads from the Hill Top. The Hillians started off with a bang and scored touchdowns in rapid succession until the half ended with our boys leading a 19-2 count. No difficulty was encountered in ploughing through the Crescent City line. Over-confidence is what the second half demonstrated when the Micks from Holy Cross started "runnin' wild." We could not cope with the onslaughts on our ends and the Badger went down scrapping tooth and nail before a truly fine opponent whose drive could not be stopped. The last whistle found Holy Cross on the long end of a 39-12 score.

THE SHOCK TROOPS

Who bore the brunt of scrimmage and the hardship of long practices, and bore them unselfishly that S. H. might go into victory.

THE RECORD

In reviewing the work of the High School, thus we pronounce it a success from every point of view. They fought hard and acquitted themselves with honor and glory. The City Championship, our chief aim, was retained. We are all high in our praise of the accomplishments of the squad of '25 and its coach. We are proud of your work, Billy. Well done. Review of the Season

Carrying along the victorious surge of Badger spirit, which had swept the Spring Hill High into prominence in the football season, the 1926 basketball team played through a whirlwind season in which from the opening game, threw off contenders as they forged into dangerous positions and finally completed the season—a success.

It was a short but tough campaign, marking the best basketball playing the Spring Hill Preppers had known. Captain Mares, famed “curly-haired” speed king, peer of Spring Hill forwards in the former season, led the parade of stars. There was tall Hubert Cazentre, rangy point getter, destined to lead many a Badger scoring charge from his station at center. Backing the offense came Clinton Voelkel, he of the lingering reach, a guard whose great defensive play allowed the keen-eyed Percy to mingle freely in the Badger offense. Forward positions narrowed to three of the open forum of fan discussion. Crafty Tyrill Bogue, famous as an unstoppable under-basket man; James Percy, a startlingly fleet floor man of the 1926 squad and the slashing Julian Graddick. Stepping into basketball fame with all his breath-taking versatility of speed, accuracy and stamina, came Tim Dugas, first year flash, to add a powerful drive to the Badger play. Chief of a strong staff of reserves were Robert Graham, C. Barras, J. McCourt, K. Boagni, T. Zieman and Achee.

Numerous teams from Mobile were met and defeated in short order by the Spring Hill quintet. Barton Academy, for a number of years our closest competitor for the City Title, unfortunately failed to appear on the schedule, but the three-game series with Wrights were played and won in three successive encounters. The most important games of the season were as follows:

Basketball

Spring Hill	29; Fairhope	13
Spring Hill	20; Sidney Lanier	22
Spring Hill	40; McGill	17
Spring Hill	21; U. M. S.	14
Spring Hill	39; U. M. S.	5
Spring Hill	25; Moss Point	17
Spring Hill	33; U. M. S.	18

Baseball

Owing to untoward circumstances and the inability of the athletic department to secure games, the baseball team of 1926 had what would be practically classed as a "gameless" season. The material on hand was of the best and we do not doubt but that Coach Donahue would have made an enviable record if circumstances had been altered. A few games, however, were played with town teams and the results were very edifying to the student body. It was sufficient to feel that they had a good team even though they did not play many games. The team consisted of:

TIM DUGAS	Left Field
JOS. BURCH	Right Field
R. L. HOLCOMBE	Pitcher
FELIX RYAN	Third Base
JOE MARES	Shortstop
F. WINTERS	Center Field

E. SCHNEIDER	Catcher

Student Council

The Student Council, introduced into Spring Hill organizations last year, proved a popular and efficacious innovation. It quickly became a valuable instrument for fostering activities of all kinds, by bringing new and original ideas to the fore, and gaining the student body greater representation in the eyes of the faculty. The Council consists of college leaders elected by the classes, and meets every week, where new ideas are advanced, weighed, and then placed before the students for their consideration. The greatest achievement this year was the successful launching of the Student Campaign, which resulted in $95,000.00 being pledged to The Greater Spring Hill by the College and High School departments.

JOSEPH M. BOWAB
President

It is to be hoped that the Council will be utilized by succeeding student bodies as an invaluable instrument in fostering the spirit of co-operation among the college leaders at Spring Hill.

The Springhillian

The official student newspaper published monthly during the scholastic year by the students of Spring Hill College.

Since its first beginning, this publication has undergone a varied career. Old boys can remember how they anticipated their copies of the Spring Hill Album, and later they read the same quarterly under the title, The Spring Hill Review. A few years later, the Review gave way to another quarterly, which made its debut as the Springhillian. It was intended to encourage the students to write better stories, essays, and poems, the more worthy being edited.

As times changed, the quarterly was found to be inadequate for student requirements. The spirit at Spring Hill was expanding to greater fields and athletics was given more attention. Real advancement and progression demonstrated itself in the form of numerous activities and organizations, which demanded a different medium of expression. Such a state of affairs demanded the publication of an organ that, of its very nature, not only would become a paper for the student inclined to write the better essay and story, but one in which is portrayed accurately the different phases and angles of student life and opinion.

The Springhillian

Under the direction of Rev. Charles Quirk, S.J., the Springhillian has just completed its second and most successful term. The newspaper form was unanimously popular and extremely well-liked from its very first edition. In view of the prospect of a Greater Spring Hill, we have every reason to look forward to the day when the Springhillian will become a weekly ranking with the best collegiate publications of the South.

With this volume the Annual makes its first appearance under the title of "The Corsair."

The name harks back to the romantic days of old Mobile Bay and the golden galleons that sailed the Spanish Main; stirring days of adventure and the zest of living, when men stood boldly by their principles.

Following in a noble sense these bold spirits who roved the seas for spoil, we have borrowed it to use as a figure for Spring Hill Men—Corsairs of Truth, Searchers after the Hidden Treasure in the great Adventure, Life.

The past year had been one of marked progress for the Mendel Biological Society. From the first small number who banded themselves a few years ago under the direction of Mr. Yancey, S.J., the society has grown to enormous proportions. Were the original charter members to return and attend one of the meetings, they would be astounded at the progress and point of development their society has attained.

The real object of the society is the fostering of student interest in biological research. Its membership is open to all interested in either biology or medicine. A knowledge of either subject is not required for admittance.

Twice a month, the society congregates to hear prominent physicians and scientific men lecture on medical and biological topics, thus acquainting the members with much useful knowledge and information.

As far as is known, the society enjoys the distinction of publishing the only college paper in the country devoted to biology. The Mendelian is published monthly and has a circulation extending into every state in the Union and in many foreign countries.

The annual banquet was held at the Cawthon Vineyard, and was pronounced the most elaborate function of its kind ever given by a Spring Hill organization. Many prominent physicians and scientific men were present.

This society is named in memory of the learned and saintly prelate, the Rt. Rev. Michael Portier, D.D., first bishop of Mobile, who founded the College in 1830. The members hold weekly meetings, at which they engage in literary and forensic exercises. They also stage entertainments for the student body at intervals during the year. The College Debating Team is chosen from the society, which is open to all college students. Admittance is through election by members. Mr. S. A. The Poetry Society is a new feature at Spring Hill. It was organized this year by Rev. Charles J. Quirk, who has made an extensive study of literature and who is himself a poet of merit.

This organization was started for the purpose of acquainting the students with true poetry, to give them an appreciation of real value, and to finish them with a knowledge of the great poets. It is not intended to make poets of all the members.

Much interest in the society has been displayed, and it gives promise of becoming one of the leading college organizations.

The Purple Kittens

Organized in the fall of 1925 as a pep club, the Purple Kittens have become a popular and effective organization. Their real worth lies in promoting and perfecting the Spring Hill spirit. Its membership comprises many leaders of the campus who continually anticipate and execute programs which are not taken care of by other clubs. The club has been honored by an officer to join the ranks of The Blue Key of the University of Florida.

Its field of possibilities is unlimited, and we have no doubt but that it will grow into one of the leading campus organizations.

The Yenni Literary Society

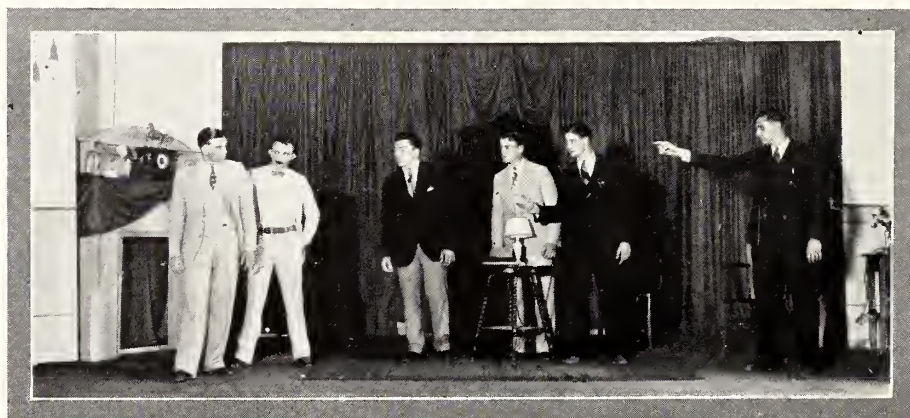

The enviable reputation established by Spring Hill High School in dramatics and debating during the past few years was maintained by the Yenni Literary Society of 1925-26.

The society is proud that its first president of the year, Joseph Mullarky, participated in the National Oratorical Contest in Washington, D. C., as one of the six best speakers in the country.

The outstanding event of the year was the three-act play, "Nothing But the Truth," presented by the society in the McGill Auditorium, Mobile, on Wednesday, April 21, 1926. Two performances were given.

J. Rizzo, one of the prominent members of the Yenni Literary Society, represented Spring Hill High School in the oratorical contest held at Barton High School. The subject of his speech was "Back to the Constitution."

The Varsity Revelers

During the past year "The Varsity Revelers" have earned an undisputed and unique place on the list of Spring Hill organizations. Although this specific activity made its debut early in the fall, it reached its zenith of perfection and popularity by constant practice and by the willingness of its members to play at any social event or entertainment. No "Movie Nite" was complete without some contribution from this group of harmony makers.

With an excellent nucleus for further advancement remaining in the underclasses, it is hoped that the future will see "The Varsity Revelers" striving to reach a still higher plane.
